Literary Talk-1

Department of English on behalf of English Association initiated an activity titled 'Literary Talk'. Dr. G. Silatha, HoD spoke on 'Australian Aborigines A Stolen Generation'. She focused on Origin, colonization, livelihood, culture, art, National flag, Stolen generation, apology, literature, research on Australian aborigines.

The word aborigines means "people who were here from the beginning". They are the indigenous people of Australia. They are believed to be the oldest population in the world. The concept of Stolen generation is interesting thing to know. Stolen generations are government policies - The forcible removal of indigenous children from their families. The generations of children removed from their homes and families became known as the stolen Generations and the legacy of trauma and loss continues to haunt many Aboriginal families until today. The objectives of these policies were for indigenous people to be allowed to "die out" through a process of natural elimination, or where possible, be assimilated into the white community.

Jack Davis, Kevin Gilbert, Sally Morgan, Bruce Pascoe, Mudrooroo, Doris Pilkington are popular aboriginal writers.

Dr. Ch. Rajeswari presented a book review on 12/11/2021. The title of the book is Roots written by Alex Haley. Alex Haley's Non-fiction tells the story of Kunta Kinte, a young man from Gambia. He is sold as a slave at 17 years. We also see the transatlantic slave trade to America [New colonies]. Roots was published in 1976. In the first few pages we see famine and how Africa is not a paradise free from worry. We also see the oral traditions - how culture is transmitted to next generations. It's Alex Haley's search for Ancestral roots; how ~~are~~ he finds generations of slaves under white masters.

Sri. K. Perachary gave a talk on grammar on 01/12/2021. He spoke on the usage of articles and prepositions.

A preposition is one of the parts of speech that correlates between two different words or phrases usually about the time or place.

Most English speaking people recall only a handful of common prepositions, but in reality, there are about 150 different prepositions. Three of these prepositions are in the top ten most commonly used words in the English language: of, to, and in. What are prepositions, are there more than one type, and if there are prepositions, are there postpositions?

" a word or group of words which are very important to form a proper sentence."
